

The following article appeared in the August edition of the Parish Magazine 'Ad Vincula' which was delivered to all households in the village at the end of July.

Neighbourhood Plan Review – Progress Update

You may have observed some of us with clipboards walking around the village in the last few weeks and wondered what we were doing. As part of the Neighbourhood Plan update, we have been undertaking a first inspection of the various sites which have been offered for future development. In tandem with our local assessments, an independent inspection has also been undertaken by external consultants, AECOM, in order to ensure that the assessment process has been applied uniformly, fairly and with rigour.

This information will be presented to the village at the September consultation. It is therefore important that you attend to see the full details of the site assessment and selection process, our housing need and to help the village decide where future houses will be located.

We look forward to seeing you on 27th or 28th September.
